

Haiku Avenue: 333 haiku poems By Robert Hobkirk Haiku Avenue: 333 haiku poems Haiku Avenue: 333 haiku poems is a collection of inspirational haiku written by Robert Hobkirk in the classical Japanese style of seventeen syllables with three lines in the 5-7-5 syllable sequence.

I love Hiku's What a lively collection of Hiku's that will make you smile and bring a bit of joy into your day: This brevity guides the poet to crystalize his vision of the sublime in the ordinary. Some of the 333 poems have the classic subject of nature while others are about contemporary American life relationships the economy, These poems can deliver the "aha" if you take your time reading them: Many of them have different interpretations of what is being said, People from diverse backgrounds and all ages should be able to enjoy these poems: Hopefully the experience will inspire you to write your own haikus: Haiku Avenue: 333 haiku poems Hobkirk writes in the morning with a couple cups of coffee: He likes to write where there is a hubbub like in a coffee shop. When he blocks out all the distractions and hears only his imagination he knows that his writing is on the right track. The most valuable lesson he learned about writing was something John Mortimer said The only rule I have found to have any validity in writing is not to bore yourself. Hobkirk writes in the morning with a couple cups of coffee. He likes to write where there is a hubbub like in a coffee shop: When he blocks out all the distractions and hears only his imagination he knows that his writing is on the right track, The most valuable lesson he learned about writing was something John Mortimer said The only rule I have found to have any validity in writing is not to bore yourself. I have always loved the short poems. They were my favorite to write in school. {site_link}

